FINISHES

You can choose from over a hundred hard-wearing finishes, developed in-house by our team, offering a versatile palette of tones. These may be sleek and modern, quietly traditional, or deeply luxurious, but will always allow the wood to speak for itself. Options for additional textures and bespoke timber finishing give you complete creative freedom.

FORMATS

Our range of formats, which include planks and parquet, give you almost limitless design choices for your project. Our Bristol Tectonic® engineered planks are available in a range of specifications, up to our exceptional 400mm wide, extra-long boards. Or, you can choose from our timeless Herringbone, Chevron and Versailles patterns.

RECLAIMED

Reclaimed wood can add authentic rustic charm to your interior. Our diverse range of reclaimed timber products can create characterful flooring and cladding with minimal environmental impact. By giving reclaimed wood a new home, you're extending the service life of the timber and supporting a circular economy and sustainable design.

STAIRS

A staircase should never hold back your interior design vision. Our engineered planks can help you transform your stairs from a purely functional structure to a considered, sophisticated design element. We can colour-match stair nosings and risers so that they tie in harmoniously with your chosen flooring.

ALTERNATIVE SPECIES

While oak flooring has traditionally been a crowd-pleaser, it's worth taking notice of the rising popularity and unique nature of other wood flooring species. Our Douglas Fir, Dutch Elm, American Black Walnut and European Ash allow you to further your design possibilities with their distinctive grains and natural colourations.

SUSTAINABLE

Responsibly sourced, high-quality timber flooring

We take pride in running an environmentally ethical business. Our timber comes from sustainably managed forests, minimising environmental impact.

All of our flooring is produced in factories with a sustainability certification, and we are also proud to be FSC® (FSC-C131323) and PEFC® certified (CATG-PEFC-040).

Look out for the FSC® and PEFC® logos on certified products for full chain of custody certification.

PROJECT CHECKLIST

TICK

If you are considering investing in a wooden floor, there are a few things to think about in advance to ensure you make the best selection for your project:

FIND A TRUSTWORTHY WOOD FLOORING COMPANY

TRAFFIC LEVEL
This is one of the most important considerations when choosing a new floor. If maintaining the wood and extending its longevity is your primary concern, it's important to know that higher levels of footfall and grit stuck in shoes are the biggest cause of damage to wooden floors.

DESIRED LOOK
This is always a great place to start and will help guide your decisions over patterns, colours and sizes. Fixed and mixed width planks are great for traditional and contemporary looks, while Herringbone, Chevron and Versailles give you more creative space to play with.

WHERE WILL YOU BE PUTTING THE FLOOR?
If you are looking to install wooden flooring in a bathroom or kitchen, we would always recommend engineered flooring as it provides higher stability than solid wood.

SUB FLOOR
Are you fitting your floor over new or old screed, wooden joists or batons, or an existing wooden floor? And is there going to be underfloor heating? The sub floor you have affects which floor can be fitted and the fitting method.

FINISH TYPE
Whether you opt for an oil or lacquer finish will determine your maintenance, the longevity and complexity of your floor. The cost between the types of finishes does not vary dramatically, but if you buy an unfinished floor and have to finish it on site it will likely cost more than having your board pre-finished.

GRADE
Our comprehensive grading guide available on our website provides detailed information about size and frequency of knots, splits, ingrown bark and sapwood content, and sometimes straightness of grain.

ENVIRONMENTAL CERTIFICATION
The majority of our boards are FSC® or PEFC® Certified or sourced through reclamation. Check on the website for FSC® certified products.

SIDE PROFILES
The top edge of boards can either be square or have a slight bevel to them. Bevelled edges are mainly for aesthetics, however they can also hide potential height differences between boards.

LENGTH, WIDTH AND THICKNESS
Our boards are available in a variety of lengths and widths, each offering a distinctive look for your home. We also offer thicker boards which are required when fitting over joists.

PROJECT DEADLINES
Your sub floor preparation needs to be completed and site conditions must be suitable before receiving, acclimatising and installing your wood flooring, and therefore should be a key consideration when buying your flooring and scheduling installation.

ACCLIMATISATION
You will need to ensure your wood acclimatises to the environment where it will be fitted. Engineered wood needs a minimum of 3 days and solid and reclaimed wood will need at least 14 days.
