TREGULLAND BARFORD BEACH HOUSE

Our Deep Smoked Heavy Brushed engineered oak planks feature here in this luxury holiday beach house on the Cornish coast. Our Deep Smoked boards go through a specialised fuming process which naturally darkens the wood and showcases the oak's features. These boards are the perfect choice for heavy traffic areas as the wood is darkened through the full thickness of the board's oak top layer for easy maintenance.

YOUR PERFECT FLOOR

With our extensive range of finishes, colours, textures and laying patterns, our aim is to give our clients superior quality combined with complete design freedom.

FINISHES

You can choose from over a hundred hard-wearing finishes, developed in-house by our team, offering a versatile palette of tones. These may be sleek and modern, quietly traditional, or deeply luxurious, but will always allow the wood to speak for itself. Options for additional textures and bespoke timber finishing give you complete creative freedom.

FORMATS

Our range of formats, which include planks and parquet, give you almost limitless design choices for your project. Our Bristol Tectonic® engineered planks are available in a range of specifications, up to our exceptional 400mm wide, extra-long boards. Or you can choose from our timeless Herringbone, Chevron and Versailles patterns.

ALTERNATIVE SPECIES

While oak flooring has traditionally been a crowd-pleaser, it's worth taking notice of the rising popularity and unique nature of other wood flooring species. Our Douglas Fir, Dutch Elm, American Black Walnut and European Ash allow you to further your design possibilities with their distinctive grains and natural colourations.

RECLAIMED

Reclaimed wood can add authentic rustic charm to any project. Our diverse range of reclaimed timber products can create characterful flooring and cladding with minimal environmental impact.

STAIRS

A staircase should never hold back your interior design vision. Our engineered planks can help you transform your stairs from a purely functional structure to a considered, sophisticated design element. We can colour-match stair nosings and risers so that they tie in harmoniously with your chosen flooring.

EXPERT FITTING SERVICE

FITTING

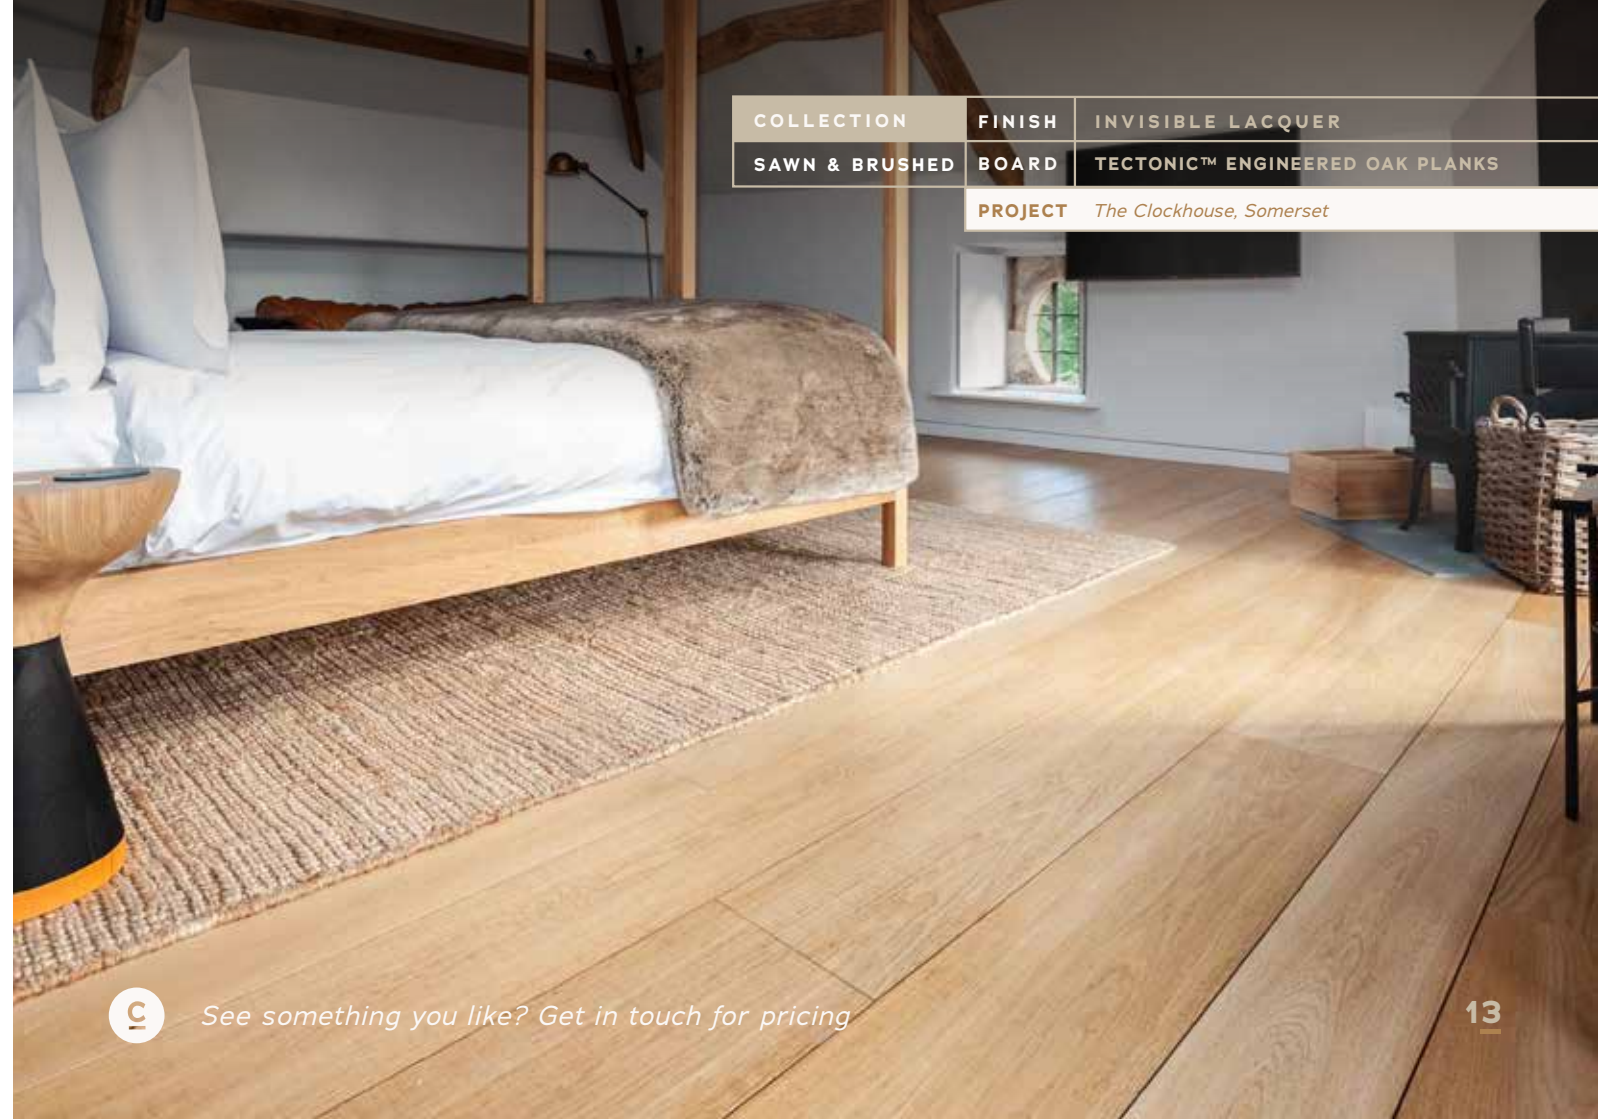

We offer a complete supply and fit service, using our skilled craftspeople and drawing on over 33 years of experience to ensure your project comes together beautifully.

Some of our prestigious customers include the British Museum, Channel 4, Drummonds Bathrooms, Superdry, Oxford University, and Selfridges. We've also installed our floors at various luxury holiday homes and boutique hotels, as well as countless residential properties throughout the UK, including listed buildings.

From preparation and acclimatisation to the final finish, we will be there every step of the way. Our experts will ensure that intricate floor fitting around fireplaces, mat inlays, trims, and thresholds are all completed to the highest standard.
