USING THIS GUIDE

CHOOSING YOUR PERFECT FLOOR

Follow these 4 simple steps to help you choose your perfect floor:

1 FORMAT

Decide on a plank or pattern, and your desired product dimensions.

Do you want a classic, traditional oak floor, extra-wide engineered oak boards, or intricate herringbone flooring?

Refer to pages 8-9 for available options.

2 GRADE

Pick a grade — choose Character or Prime.

Do you want more natural, characterful wood flooring, or a clean, contemporary aesthetic?

Refer to our Grading Guide on pages 46-47 for more information.

3 TEXTURE

Consider an additional texture for your wood flooring.

Adding a brushed texture accentuates the unique grain structure of each floorboard. Combine it with cross-sawing to create an eye-catching, rustic floor that's irresistibly tactile.

Refer to pages 48-49 for available options.

4 COLOUR

Choose your favourite finish.

Whether you're after a lighter shade, a warm mid-tone, or luxuriously dark wood flooring, we can create the perfect hard-wearing finish for your project.

See our Colour Guide on pages 50-53 for more information.

STILL CAN'T MAKE UP YOUR MIND?

Feel free to talk the options through with our friendly Customer Service Team.

HEATING

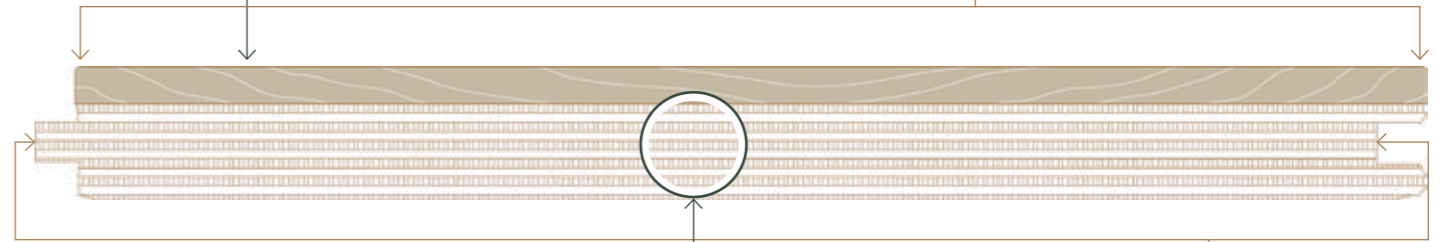

- Plank thickness: 15/20mm
- Available widths: 130mm /180mm /220mm /260mm /300mm
- Plank length: mixed lengths from 0.6m to 3m (average board length of 2.2m)
- Extra long planks available (3m-4.4m)
- Constructed using sustainable, responsibly sourced timber (FSC® and PEFC certified available)

INVISIBLE LACQUER SAWN & BRUSHED

Discover our alternative species on pages 36-45. We offer Elm, Ash, Walnut and Douglas Fir.

Durable, high-quality European oak top layer.

Boards are micro-bevelled as standard — with eased edges on two sides and perfect matching at the header joints — subtly defining each board for a quietly traditional appearance.

All materials are meticulously dried and evenly acclimatised, then cold press bonded using top-quality adhesives.

High-grade birch ply base for outstanding structural stability and enduring performance — ideal for installation onto underfloor heating systems.

Planks are calibrated to thickness, and our mills use diamond tooling to cut precise tongue and groove joints. This creates long-lasting, stable flooring with superior precision to save time and hassle when fitting.

“

The quality of the product is always superb. The knowledge and level of customer service delivered by the staff is absolutely excellent. If you are looking for a beautiful timber floor, look no further.

Our Regency® flooring has been described as indistinguishable from genuine original-faced reclaimed oak boards. A highly secret and complex mixture of treatments produces a board that has the wear and patina of boards over 100 years old.

Our Regency® Tectonic® oak boards have the advantage of appearing authentically aged but with the stability of modern engineered flooring, which makes them straightforward to lay and suitable for projects with underfloor heating.

Regency® oak flooring is an ideal choice for renovation work, listed buildings, and projects where a traditional atmosphere is required.

GRADING GUIDE

Our entire range of boards — whether you choose our top-grade prime boards or the most characterful — are all made using the same exacting techniques to the highest manufacturing standards.

The grade of wood flooring is simply the result of a visual selection process. It's all about the appearance of each plank: the natural colouration, grain patterns, frequency of knots and imperfections, and inclusion of sapwood.

OAK

PRIME

Available on: Bristol Tectonic®, Original Tectonic®, Chevron, Tectonic® Herringbone & Rift & Quarter Sawn

Prime grade boards have minimal colour variation, which creates a very clean, consistent appearance. They are clear of most natural imperfections, with occasional small pencil knots allowed (up to 10mm), which in most cases don't require any filler. There are no splits or sapwood permitted.

CHARACTER

Available on: Bristol Tectonic®, Original Tectonic® Herringbone, Giant Herringbone & Versailles Panels.

Character grade planks feature natural colour variations, offering characterful grain patterns and imperfections such as limited-sized knots (up to 60mm), splits (known as checks and shakes), and sapwood. If required, the knots and splits are filled. The filler is designed to complement the natural tone of the wood, making them a charming rustic feature of the boards.

MILL RUN

Available on: Solid Tumbled Herringbone & Solid Square Edge Herringbone & Giant Oak.

This grading is a mix of our other oak grades with varying characteristics. All grades may contain smaller or larger colour variations & traces of sapwood. Unlimited knot size. Colour of boards, quantity of clear boards, knot & splits or sap will vary per batch.

SCAN ME

THE COMPLETE GRADING GUIDE

Scan our QR code to download our complete grading guide.

These descriptions and images should serve as a guide to what's considered the typical criteria when planks are selected and categorised into grades. That said, every batch will differ; the uniqueness of every plank is part of wood's natural charm — the grain patterns, colouration, and organic features are a lasting fingerprint of the tree's growth.

TEXTURES

Our in-house finishing specialists can add a range of additional textures to your boards. When combined with our extensive finish collections, these textures offer plenty of creative options for enhancing the character of your flooring.

BRUSHED

We can brush your wood flooring to varying depths — from Fine Brushed to Heavy Brushed — depending on the look you want to achieve. This involves running a wire rotary brush over the boards in the direction of the grain to carefully remove the softer wood fibres.

This process emphasises the unique grain structure of your floorboards; fine brushing adds a subtle amount of texture and charm, whereas heavy brushing is more dramatic and provides a very tactile, rustic finish.

CROSS-SAWN

A cross-sawn texture can be added to create the unique ripples of rough sawn timber on your flooring. To achieve it, the boards are sawn across the width of the board. The effect is raw and simple, replicating traditional timber cutting methods.

SAWN & BRUSHED

Combining brushing with cross-sawing will create an eye-catching texture with a flowing, non-uniform contour. The result: flooring or cladding which is visually dramatic and irresistibly tactile.

DISTRESSED

Selecting a distressed texture on your boards can create the authentic wear marks that you would find on original, aged flooring. This is a great option for projects that require high-quality modern flooring that remains sympathetic to the age and character of period properties.

COLOUR GUIDE

Some clients build a room around a flooring choice while others choose a floor based on their planned theme.

In order to make your decisions as smooth and easy as possible, we have compiled all our collection colours and patterns into an easy-to-view colour guide.

Simply pick your favourite colour and turn to the page number indicated underneath the image for more information.

TREGULLAND BARFORD BEACH HOUSE

FEATURED PROJECT

Our Deep Smoked Heavy Brushed engineered oak planks feature here in this luxury holiday beach house on the Cornish coast.

These boards go through a specialised fuming process which naturally darkens the wood and showcases the oak's features.

They are the perfect choice for heavy traffic areas as the wood is darkened through the full thickness of the board's oak top layer for easy maintenance.

EVERY DETAIL MATTERS

BESPOKE STAIRS

We can transform existing staircases to integrate them harmoniously with our wood flooring, or you can use our planks to create a striking, bespoke feature staircase in your home.

Our engineered oak planks provide the sought-after aesthetic of solid oak, but with the added benefit of the structural strength of engineered wood flooring. So, they're perfect for cladding stairs.

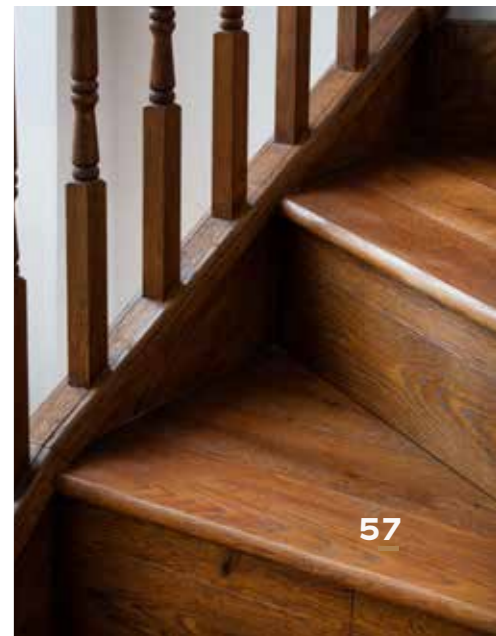

We can colour-match stair nosings and risers so that they tie in harmoniously with your chosen flooring.

MAINTAINING YOUR FLOOR

RE-FINISHING

Whether you're looking to restore your home's original wood flooring, or you want to give your Chaunceys floor a new lease of life, our floor care specialists can help you give your floor the attention it deserves.

Over the years, life in a busy home can take its toll on wood flooring, especially in high-traffic areas. A routine of regular maintenance should keep your wood flooring looking beautiful and maximise its life; however, in some cases, your wood flooring might need to be deep cleaned or oiled to restore it to its former glory.

MAINTENANCE

Wood flooring is an investment and we believe it should last a lifetime. To ensure the longevity of your floors, we recommend a regular maintenance routine. Ask our Customer Service Team about our range of Maintenance packages and cleaning products.

FITTING ACCESSORIES

Chaunceys can supply all products required to fit your flooring to the highest standard, including: adhesives, screws, underlays, primers, levelling compounds, screeds, and damp proof membranes.

MOULDINGS

We offer a selection of mouldings, including various thresholds, quadrants, scotia, pipe ferrules, as well as stair nosings. Mouldings can be supplied unfinished, clear lacquered, or can be pre-finished to match your flooring at an additional cost. Please contact us for more details.

GENERAL ACCESSORIES

Other accessories are available to help you keep your floor protected, such as felt furniture feet and glides.
